

Kay/Released)

120430-N-OX321-149 AYASE, Japan (April 28, 2012) – Students from Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) at Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi, eat Mochi after watching a Mochi pounding (traditional Japanese pounding of sweet rice) demonstration as part of their Culture Day event. Students rotated through various events such as a marching band demonstration, origami, Spanish (Cinco De Mayo tribute), an Ethiopian game, story telling, Mochi pounding and martial arts for Culture Day.(U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E.

120430-N-OX321-198 AYASE, Japan (April 28, 2012) – Students from Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) at Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi participate in a martial arts demonstration as part of their Culture Day event. Students rotated through various events such as a marching band demonstration, origami, Spanish (Cinco De Mayo tribute), an Ethiopian game, story telling, Mochi pounding (traditional Japanese pounding of sweet rice) and martial arts for Culture Day.(U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E. Kay/Released)

Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E. Kay/Released)

120430-N-OX321-280 AYASE, Japan (April 28, 2012) – Students from Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) at Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi listen to a story being told with a visual aide of characters on a felt board. as part of their Culture Day event. Students rotated through various events such as a marching band demonstration, origami, Spanish (Cinco De Mayo tribute), an Ethiopian game, story telling, Mochi pounding (traditional Japanese pounding of sweet rice) and martial arts for Culture Day.(U.S. Navy photo by Mass