

120511-N-OX321-057 AYASE, Japan (May 11, 2012) – Master-at-Arms 3rd Class Matthew Pinion (right), prepares cotton candy at the Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) Spring Carnival held at the Ranger Gym on Naval Air Facility Atsugi. The carnival is part of the Adopt-a-Grade program in which various commands volunteer their time to help their adopted grade from SLES with events, homework and other needs. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E. Kay/Released)

120511-N-OX321-119 AYASE, Japan (May 11, 2012) – Aircrew Survival Equipmentman 2nd Class Robert Huricks (right), attaches a toy to the fishing lines of students for the “Gone Fishin” booth at the Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) Spring Carnival held at the Ranger Gym on Naval Air Facility Atsugi. The carnival is part of the Adopt-a-Grade program in which various commands volunteer their time to help their adopted grade from SLES with events, homework and other needs. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E. Kay/Released)

120511-N-OX321-146 AYASE, Japan (May 11, 2012) – Logistics Specialist 2nd Class Charlowe Medina paints a student's face at the Shirley Lanham Elementary School (SLES) Spring Carnival held at the Ranger Gym on Naval Air Facility Atsugi. The carnival is part of the Adopt-a-Grade program in which various commands volunteer their time to help their adopted grade from SLES with events, homework and other needs. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Kegan E. Kay/Released)