Joint Basing Newsletter

For employees of Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam

Issue 8
Sept 2010

Message from the 15th Wing

Colonel Sam C. Barrett
Commander
15th Wing

As the 15th Wing Commander, it has been my pleasure to work with our Navy counterparts to forge the exciting construct now known as Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam. In the previous Transitions Newsletter, you heard from Colonel Rusty Baumgardner, the Deputy Joint Base Commander, about the re-designation of the 15th Mission Support Group as the 647th Air Base Group. This historic milestone marked the official departure of the Air Base Group from the 15th Wing and set the stage for the movement of some previous 15th Wing assets to the Joint Base. The 15th Wing maintains operational control of the Air Force's flying mission, and as such, the 15th Operations Group, 15th Maintenance Group, 15th Medical Group, and other Wing Staff Agencies remain under my command. Receiving our installation support from the combined expertise of Air Force and Navy best practices fortifies our ability to fly, fight, and win.

Thank you to all who have worked so hard over the past months and years to make sure we get this transition right. The melding of these two historic bases into a single installation has never been done before, but the advantages of Sailors and Airmen working side by side will only increase the quality of warfighter support. On behalf of the Airmen of the 15th Wing, we look forward to an enduring relationship with our Joint Base partners and working together to create opportunities for greater success.

Sincerely,

SAM C. BARRETT, Colonel, USAF
Commander, 15th Wing

Leadership Memo

We would like to offer a warm welcome to all new employees to Naval Facilities Engineering Command (NAVFAC) Hawaii, and Fleet and Industrial Supply Center (FISC), Pearl Harbor. We are happy for this opportunity to integrate and look forward to increasing synergy and improving processes.

With the official stand-up of Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam (JBPHH) on October 1, 2010, one of our priorities is to ensure the same high-level of service customers have come to expect, while remaining focused on our mission and supporting the warfighter.

There will be some changes and hopefully no speed bumps as the new Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam matures; however, through the talent and dedication of the combined Air Force and Navy personnel working together, we are confident our delivery of support and services to our tenant commands, service members and their families will continue uninterrupted.

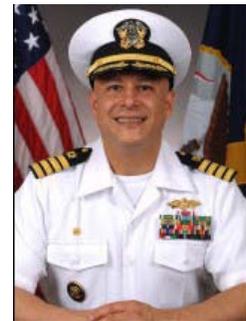

We are excited about the opportunities to enhance our technical and acquisition competencies at NAVFAC Hawaii and FISC Pearl through the integration of diverse and high-performing people from the Air Force.

We recognize that it's not easy to transition to a Joint Base. We value employee and customer thoughts and opinions, and encourage questions. This is especially true for our current and new Air Force employees. Keeping the lines of communication open will ensure that working for NAVFAC and FISC is a positive experience for all.

Employment (APF) Opportunities with the Navy

Unlike the Air Force system, the Navy requires individual resumes to apply for civilian jobs. Consideration is not automatic and you must apply for positions either through an open continuous or an individual announcement. To learn more about employment opportunities visit the Navy Civilian Employment website at:

<http://www.public.navy.mil/donhr/Employment/Pages/Default.aspx>

Navy's Civilian Benefits Center (CBC)

CBC is the centralized organization within the Department of the Navy that administers the Federal benefits and retirement programs for civilian employees. It is the Navy's equivalent to the Air Force's Benefits and Entitlements Team (BEST). You'll find that the tools and format are similar as both agencies use EBIS. Employees can access EBIS (an automated, secure, self-service Web application) to make health and life insurance transactions, Thrift Savings Plan contribution elections, review general and personal benefits information, and calculate retirement estimates.

Employment (NAF) Opportunities with the Navy

The Air Force and Navy both use nafjobs.com website to announce NAF job vacancies. Air Force NAF employees may continue to apply for other positions through this website.

Transitions provides information to both military and civilian employees about Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam (JBPHH). If you have suggestions for content, please send to vickie.lancaster_ctr@navy.mil or call 473-1173.
