Naval Station Norfolk Shooting (UPDATE 5:00 a.m.)

NORFOLK, Va. – There are two fatalities, one male Sailor and one male civilian suspect, following a shooting at Naval Station Norfolk last night. Naval security forces killed the suspect.

The incident occurred at approximately 11:20 p.m. at Pier 1 on board USS MAHAN (DDG 72). No other injuries have been reported.

Naval Station Norfolk was briefly put on lockdown as a precautionary measure. The lockdown lasted approximately 45 minutes.

With the exception of Pier 1, operations have returned to normal at Naval Station Norfolk.

For USS MAHAN – officers, chiefs and duty section personnel ONLY. Non-duty section enlisted personnel should NOT report.

Counselors from Navy Fleet and Family Service Center are on hand to assist personnel.

The shooting and the details surrounding it are under investigation.
