"HOW TO BECOME A NAVY CONTRACTOR"

WEB SITES

North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) Code
for your product(s) and/or service(s). Many government product/service listings and future procurements are identified by NAICS Code.
http://www.census.gov/epcd/www/naics.html

The Size Standards for industries described in Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Codes no longer apply. The new table of small business size standards based on the NAICS codes has replaced the table based on SIC Codes.

Central Contractor Registration (CCR)
You must be registered in the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) to be awarded a contract from the Department of Defense (DOD).
http://www.ccr.gov/

Commercial and Government Entity (CAGE) Code
You must register in the Central Contractor Register (CCR) System to obtain a Commercial and Government Entity (CAGE) Code. The CAGE Code request process is now incorporated in the CCR registration process
http://www.ccr.gov/

Therefore, upon activation in CCR, your company will be automatically assigned a CAGE Code. To view your company CAGE Code:

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY AND
ALL OTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCIES' SOLICITATIONS

WEB SITES

Federal Business Opportunities (FedBizOpps)

Visiting this website on a regular basis will assist you in identifying Department of the Navy, as well as other DoD and Federal Government procurement opportunities. FedBizOpps has been designated as the single source for Federal Government procurement opportunities that exceed $25,000.
https://www.fbo.gov/

Navy Electronic Commerce On-line (NECO)

If you only want to view Navy solicitations, the FedBizOpps web site is linked to the Navy Electronic Commerce On-line (NECO) website:
https://www.neco.navy.mil

You can find each Navy activity and access the solicitations for just that activity.

This greatly simplifies getting information on your local Navy activity's currently posted procurements.

SeaPort-e (Enhanced) Contracting Portal

Services requirements only (as opposed to products requirements) with an estimated value of over $150,000 are normally posted on SeaPort-e.

http://www.seaport.navy.mil/default.aspx

To sign up to be a prime contractor in SeaPort-e, you must watch for a "rolling admissions" opportunity to come around approximately once per year, then act fast with your proposal submission on the following website:
http://www.seaport.navy.mil/default.aspx

For subcontracting opportunities see the list of SeaPort-e Prime Contractors,
