Mrs. Sybil Stockdale
Ombudsman of the Year Award
2017
Standard Operating Procedures

1 FEBRUARY 2017
Background

This award was inspired by Mrs. Sybil Stockdale who set an unflagging example for her support to families of other POWs during her husband, Vice Admiral James Bond Stockdale’s, seven-year internment in Southeast Asia. She was the co-founder and first National Coordinator of the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, which was committed to ensuring clear communication between the US government and the families of POWs. Her dedication to improving communication emulates the importance of communication between the command and the Navy Ombudsman. This award recognizes the Ombudsman who exemplifies the qualities of professionalism through volunteerism and dedication to the support of Navy families.

Purpose

This standard operating procedure (SOP) outlines the policies and procedures for the executing The Sybil Stockdale Ombudsman of the Year Award.

The objectives of the award are to recognize Ombudsmen who have demonstrated outstanding commitment to:

A. Creating and maintaining effective lines of communication between their command and its families
B. Assisting commands and families in identifying the command’s needs for support services
C. Providing appropriate referral services before family concerns and problems reach crisis proportions

Criteria

All active duty and reserve command ombudsmen who have served for more than one year and are registered in the Ombudsman Registry are eligible for this award. To be recommended by the Commanding Officer the ombudsman must:

- Demonstrate the ability to effectively communicate between the Navy family and the command by enhancing communications between the command and its families (including, but not limited to, providing direct communication to families through newsletters, e-mails, etc.)
- Maintain the highest standards of professionalism and confidentiality
- Be a positive role model for command members and their families
- Assist in identifying command needs for support services and provide appropriate referral services to address family concerns and problems
- Facilitate and promote a healthy sense of community among Navy members and their family members within the command
Serve as a principal source of assistance and support to Navy families during times of local or national emergency, mobilization, deployment or evacuation. Must have demonstrated consistent compliance with training, data collection and required reports submitted on behalf of the command per OPNAVINST 1750.1G (CH-2).
