It is now possible to search for and order your training DVD's, CD-ROMs and videos electronically. You can access the following web site where there are approx. 9,000 govt. training videos and over 6,000 interactive multimedia instruction products to choose from.

<http://dodimagery.afis.osd.mil/>

Click on "DAVIS/DITIS" in the left column 4th link down, and proceed. DAVIS is updated daily and lists all the services' combined training videos.

Enter a search subject and when you find something you like, DAVIS will step you through the ordering process. Just click on the title, then click on "Add Item to Shopping Cart!" On the next page click on "Check Out." Next click on the arrow to find your component, fill out the mailing information (Any special requests can be made in the "Comments" block) and click on "Order." Your process is now complete. Unless otherwise noted, tapes and CDs are no charge and on permanent retention for as long as you need them.

Please feel free to pass the web site and instructions to anyone who would like to use it. It is not necessary to have a ".mil" address to access, however, we do require an official govt/mil address to mail videos to.

After ordering your videos, you might go back to the dodimagery site (DVI) and go to the 5th link (DoD Image collection) and 6th link (DoD posters) on the left side of the page. These products are also no charge.
