

PCS Orders/Travel/Moving

- Military and civilian training and travel of employees will be disrupted unless the travel or training was connected to an excepted activity. Military and civilians who are on travel will have to return to their duty station.
- Travel related to required commissioning actions, such as commissioning physicals, etc., will not be impacted.
- Execution of existing PCS orders is allowed. However, no NEW PCS orders will be issued unless orders are to an excepted activity.
- Accessions, training moves associated with recruitment and initial entry training, and movement to first-duty stations are excepted activities and authorized.
- No new movement of household goods are being accepted or made. Only moves that were scheduled prior to the shutdown will be made; this means only those moves that already had an appointment with movers will be made.
