USER AGREEMENT AND GUIDELINES FOR CHAPEL FACILITY USAGE

Note: The use of chapel spaces for non-command religious program events is a privilege granted by the base Commanding Officer. To facilitate proper use of chapel facilities, the following guidelines should be followed. By your signature below, you acknowledge that you will comply with these requirements fully and to the best of your ability. Failure to comply may result in the termination of facility usage and cancellation of all future reservations.

1. You are responsible for bringing all equipment, materials, and supplies (including making copies, use of staplers and markers, etc.) required for your event. For fellowship events or meetings, the use of chapel tables and chairs are available on request.
2. You are responsible for setting up the space before the event and restoring it to its original configuration afterwards. If you plan to rearrange a room, you should first seek permission to do so before moving any furniture. In certain cases, some furniture items may not be moved.
3. You shall ensure that chapel furniture and fixtures are properly handled at all times. In case of damage, you should report it immediately to the chapel staff for proper assessment. Damage due to negligence or misuse will require you or the responsible person to reimburse the government for the cost of repair or replacement.
4. You are responsible for maintaining proper respect to the facility and not allow any activity that violates good order and discipline.
5. You are responsible for cleaning the space after use. This includes erasing any writings on the whiteboards (with the proper cleaner), taking out your trash, wiping down tables or chairs and sweeping and washing floors. The chapel may supply limited cleaning equipment.
6. Children should not be left in any space without the supervision of parents or a responsible adult.
7. Child care spaces in the chapel and classroom area are governed by Navy child care policy. Two authorized providers are required at all times. Chapel child care spaces are authorized for use only for events taking place in chapel facilities.
8. Food and drinks are not allowed in any chapel space except the fellowship halls and kitchens. No food shall be left in the facility following an event.

9. Certain kitchen appliances in the Support Site fellowship hall kitchen require hands-on training. Only properly trained personnel should operate these appliances--consult the chapel staff to receive instruction.
10. Smoking or drinking of alcoholic beverages--with the exception of sacramental wine during religious services--is not allowed in chapel spaces.
11. Taping or nailing anything on the walls or ceilings is prohibited.
12. With the exception of the color guard during official ceremonies and on-duty personnel, taking weapons into the main chapel is not allowed.
13. In rare cases, a key may be checked out to access a space. If so, it must be picked up on the day of the event, or the workday preceding it (if an event is on a weekend or holiday). Keys will not be duplicated or loaned to others, and must be returned immediately the next day (including weekends around the hours of worship services).
14. Use of the chapel's built-in sound system shall be arranged with the chapel staff and will be limited to three microphones including the chaplain/officiant's lapel mic. Access to the sound room is restricted to chapel staff personnel only.

If you choose to have a civilian clergy conduct your wedding, indicate this in your facility request form for approval by the Command Chaplain.

17. Retirements, reenlistments and Changes of Command. In the case of retirements, reenlistments, or changes of command, the following additional guidelines apply:

a. Flags, flag stands and ceremonial bells - the chapel does not carry these items in its inventory, so you need to provide these yourself.

b. Receptions - if you wish to use the fellowship hall for a reception after a command event, make sure you reflect this in your application, including the times for setting up and securing.

c. Equipment for the ceremony should be set up the day of the event and secured immediately thereafter.

I AGREE AND WILL COMPLY WITH THE ABOVE REQUIREMENTS.
