

111006-N-TO330-392 AYASE, Japan (Oct. 6, 2011) – Door prize winners at this year's Navy Ball held at the Officer's Club on Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi open their prizes onstage to show what they've won. The theme for this year's Navy Ball on NAF Atsugi was the Centennial of Naval Aviation and Operation Tomodachi. These two events marked a significant point in not only the base's history, but the U.S. Navy as a whole. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Apprentice Vivian Blakely/Released)

111006-N-TO330-762 AYASE, Japan (Oct. 6, 2011) – Command Master Chief Anthony Johnson, Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi's oldest Sailor, speaks with Master-at-Arms Seaman Apprentice Joshua Barall, NAF Atsugi's youngest Sailor at the Officer's Club during NAF Atsugi's Navy Ball. The theme for this year's Navy Ball on NAF Atsugi was the Centennial of Naval Aviation and Operation Tomodachi. These two events marked a significant point in not only the base's history, but the U.S. Navy as a whole. (U.S. Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Apprentice Vivian Blakely/Released)

111006-N-TO330-768 AYASE, Japan (Oct. 6, 2011) – Rear Adm. Sean Buck (right), Commander, Fleet Air Forward, Command Master Chief Anthony Johnson, this year's oldest Sailor, Master-at-Arms Seaman Apprentice Joshua Barall, this year's youngest Sailor, and Capt. Eric Gardner, commanding officer of Naval Air Facility (NAF) Atsugi cut the cake at the Officer's Club during NAF Atsugi's Navy Ball. The theme for this year's Navy Ball on NAF Atsugi was the Centennial of Naval Aviation and Operation Tomodachi. These two events marked a significant point in not only the base's history, but the U.S. Navy as a whole. (U.S.

Navy photo by Mass Communication Specialist Seaman Apprentice Vivian Blakely/Released)