Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam to test Giant Voice on April 1

(PEARL HARBOR-HICKAM, HI) - Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam will conduct a test of its "Giant Voice" mass notification system on Friday, Apr. 1, between noon and 4 p.m. The test will be done after the State Civil Defense conducts its monthly test of its sirens.

The Giant Voice test will consist of a voice announcement, followed by a 30-second steady tone, then conclude with another short voice announcement. The public address system will be audible to residents who live or work near Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam, to include the Wahiawa and West Loch annexes.

The Giant Voice system provides base-wide siren signals and pre-recorded and live voice messages for use during natural disasters and emergency situations.
